STEVE SHEA SHOT.

FRANK HOLWAY DID THE SHOOTING.

MISTAKEN FOR A BURGLAR

Holway Comes to Town and Surrenders, but Was Not Taken In Custody.

Stephen Shea, a young farmer who lives some eleven miles south of the city, a son of the late Cornelius Shea, was the victim of a shooting that occurred about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, in which he sustained a wound that Dr. S. K. Crawford, the attending physician, pronounces dangerous, but not necessarily fatal.

Young Shea and Squire Hastings were in Sedalia Saturday, and it was late when they started home. Arriving at what is known as the old Ming place, between eight and nine miles south of town, the team was stopped in order that Shea might obtain a drink of water.

Frank Holway, the eldest son of B. F. Holway, the well-known horseman, had just moved into the house with his family that day and was sleeping in one of the rooms when Shea entered.

Hearing a noise and finally noticing a stranger approaching, Mr. Holway called out to know what was wanted, but Shea paid no attention to the question.

Seizing his revolver, a 44-calibre, Mr. Holway asked a second time what was wanted, but again received no reply, and in consequence fired a shot at random to frighten the supposed burglar.

Instead of retreating, Shea continued to advance, when Holway fired a second shot, and this was the one that struck the intruder. The ball entered the right temple, passing on to the scalp, producing a groove in the bone as it passed backward about four inches and then left the scalp without having penetrated the skull.

As quickly as possible a messenger was dispatched after Dr. S. K. Crawford, and he was summoned by telephone from the water works, about 5 o'clock Sunday morning. He responded promptly and Shea's wound, as described above, was dressed, after which he was taken home, since which time he has been getting along as well as could be expected.

So far as can be learned, no blame whatever attaches to Mr. Holway. He had every reason to believe that his house was being burglarized, and he did just what almost any one would have done under like circumstances.

He came to town Sunday morning and informed Sheriff Porter of what he had done, and at the same time stated that if the authorities wanted him they would find him at home.

No step has been taken looking to his arrest, and County Attorney Hoffman stated this morning that if the facts proved to be as they had been narrated to him there would not be any prosecution.

Young Shea is well known in Sedalia. He bears a good reputation, and general regret is expressed for him in his misfortune, which is attributed to an over indulgence in liquor.

IS HE THE BRUTE?

Arrest of a Suspect for the Tipton Assault.

Ever since the attempted criminal assault upon Miss Ella Trecker, a highly respected young lady living in the suburbs of Tipton, last Monday, the officers have been actively engaged in trying to locate the culprit.

Sunday Marshal Clark, of Tipton, arrived in Boonville and immediately took into custody a man by the name of J. H. Weatherby, a late penitentiary convict, who had been loitering around this city for the past two days. Marshal Clark says he is positive he is the right party. He left overland for Tipton with his prisoner, and if the young lady identifies him it is feared that violence will be resorted to.

Conference to Be Held Here.

Rev. R. P. Tyler informs the DEMOCRAT that the annual conference of the Colored M. E. church will convene in this city on September 13, and the camp-meeting now being held on the north side is only a preliminary event, and not in opposition to the camp-meeting now being held in South Sedalia.

GORED BY A BULL.

James Welverton's Narrow Escape from Death Today.

James Welverton was attacked by an infuriated bull south of town this forenoon and had a narrow escape from death.

The bull's horns caught Mr. Welverton's right shoulder and lacerated the flesh. He was then thrown to the ground and the animal made one or two lunges at him, when he managed to escape without further injury.

OPENING OF SCHOOLS.

The Enrollment is Fully Up to Last Year's.

The public schools of the city opened this morning for the fall and winter term. Every teacher was present, and it is believed the enrollment will be fully up to that of the opening day last year.

Superintendent G. V. Buchanan was seen at noon and said it would be impossible to state what the total enrollment was today, as there were many transfers necessary, owing to the fact that scores of children attended school for the first time this morning. He is satisfied, however, that the figures of a year ago will be equaled, if not surpassed.

The Sacred Heart Catholic school on West Third street also opened this morning, the attendance being larger than on the opening day last year.

The St. Joseph convent school, on East Fourth street, will open tomorrow.

A VISITOR ROBBED.

John Dunnigan Loses a Suit of Clothes and Money.

John Dunnigan, of the Missouri Pacific at Kansas City, and wife, were the victims of robbers while sleeping at the home of Conductor E. J. Stubblefield, No. 222 East Pacific street, between 1 and 3 o'clock this morning.

An entrance was effected by sawing a hole in the kitchen door, after which the catch was pulled back. A $40 suit of clothes that Mr. Dunnigan had worn only three times were taken, and also a purse containing $2.50 in money and a railroad pass.

The latter was found in the yard this morning, but there is no clew to the clothes, and in the meantime John is wearing one of Mr. Stubblefield's suits.

That Printing Office Debt.

"Ye Artistic Printing House" was not closed on debts owed by H. J. Dillon, as stated Sunday, but on debts owed by Wm. Bishop, of Benton county, who will own the plant when certain indebtedness is liquidated.

James R., infant son of Mr. T. L. Crain, died at Georgetown this morning and was buried this afternoon.

BRUTAL BANDITS.

A MESSENGER MURDERED.

OSWEGO, Kas., Sept. 4.—Three men, one masked, held up 'Frisco passenger train No. 2, at Mound Valley, Kan., at 3:13 o'clock yesterday morning, shot and instantly killed Express Messenger Charles A. Chapman, robbed nearly all the passengers and escaped. Mound Valley is a little station only fifteen miles from the Indian territory line. The bandits are now probably safe within that retreat of outlaws.

When the train pulled into Mound Valley two of the bandits boarded the engine and one remained upon the platform. A moment later the colored porter stepped from the train to assist a lady in getting on. A Winchester was thrust into his face and he was told to throw up his hands. Instead of complying he rushed the woman into the car and locked the door. Conductor Mills, knowing nothing of the porter's experience, came forward from a rear car and met with the same reception. He, too, refused to comply with the request to throw up his hands and ran back to the sleeper.

Meanwhile Messenger Chapman had left his car, whether to escape or to notify the passengers will never be known, for he had gone but a few yards when he was discovered by the outlaws upon the engine who opened fire upon him. Only two

Licensed to Wed.

A marriage license was issued today to Louis F. Livingston, of Grandin, Carter county, and Annie Lindsay, of Sedalia.

Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The burial service was conducted by Rev. J. S. Myers, pastor of the Christian church, but his feeling and appropriate remarks were heard by only a small portion of the large number present, as it was impossible to gain an entrance to the house.

The deceased was one of the most popular of Sedalia's young railroad men, and a number of beautiful floral tributes were bestowed by friends who had known and appreciated him in life.

The interment took place in the cemetery, the funeral cortege being one of unusual length.

The pall-bearers were selected from the ranks of the brakemen, as follows: S. A. Snow, W. F. Burkholder, R. M. Lyons, E. A. Thompson, Perry Lyons and H. W. Newcomb.

THE DEMOCRAT, SEDALIA, MO.

Office: 307 Ohio St. Telephone 232.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

The business men of the city can have a good trade this fall if they will hustle for it.

The advertising columns of the newspapers, judiciously used by the business men of the country, will soon restore confidence.

The western republicans led by such journals as the Denver Republican refuse to longer support the tariff policy of Reed, McKinley and other protection bosses.

The Democrat hopes the public schools of the city will flourish as never before this year. Sedalia is growing every year and the schools should become better and better with each successive term.

SPRINGFIELD is hustling for trade in spite of her bank failures. The Democrat of Sunday morning contained so many bright, well written advertisements that it was necessary to make the paper twelve pages instead of eight. That's the way to make business.

INGALLS is out as a candidate for governor of Kansas, and will then ask for Peffer's seat in the United States senate. There is no man in the state whom it would give the populists and democrats more genuine pleasure to see made the republican standard bearer.

THE Industrial Council, representing 15,000 working men in Kansas City and Kansas City, Kansas, has declared a boycott on the products of the Armour packing houses. The boycott grows out of a strike against a reduction of wages of the Armour employees.

DURING the month of August $40,000,000 in gold was imported into this country and the national bank circulation was increased $15,000,000, making a net increase of $55,000,000 in the money in the country. No financial stringency can long survive these influences.

KANSAS again comes to the front with a regular old-fashioned blood-curdling train robbery, in which an express messenger was murdered and the passengers robbed of their valuables. It really seems that in a civilized, well settled country it ought to be possible to break up train robbing by making it an extra hazardous avocation.

SEDALIA'S labor day celebration was one of the pleasantest and most enjoyable holidays of the year. There was lots of fun at the park and some eloquent, patriotic and sensible speeches at the court house. Such holidays should be more frequent; people would enjoy life better, be healthier and happier and could accomplish far more real work in the year.

PHIL ARMOUR tells a Chicago reporter that the financial stringency is over and that money will soon be as plentiful as ever. His firm, he said, on Thursday had offers of money from eight different sources, $250,000 from New York. The capitalist who has money and wants to make an investment had better hurry about it or prices will be climbing up before he secures the bargain he wants.

WITH the Daltons again in the saddle in the Indian territory and the train robbers at work in Kansas, the southwest will find plenty of excitement to last until the open strip. Then when the lots is over a common men should take the war path and make a fall campaign against the desperadoes. There will be plenty of such men anxious for a month's employment.

THERE is no more enterprising city in the country than Sedalia, nor one that has felt the late panic less. The fall season is at hand and it is time for the business men to quit talking hard times and go to hustling for trade. The columns of the city papers should be full of bright attractive advertisements, telling of the inducements that are being offered for trade, and the general public should liberally patronize those who show their enterprise by their efforts to bring about a revival of trade.

SENATOR STEWART, of Nevada, will address the senate on the silver question tomorrow and well informed Washingtonians expect a sensation. He will explain the history of the demonetization of silver step by step and it is expected that he will make positive and emphatic charges of fraud and rascality in the passage of the demonetization bill in 1873. He has secured possession of the original house and senate bills and will introduce them as exhibits "A" and "B" during his remarks, and will call attention to the way they were altered and interlined.

THE DEMOCRAT today contains an article from a Springfield, Ohio, paper in regard to the good work accomplished with a steam roller. The publication is made at the request of a member of the council, and does not mean that the DEMOCRAT favors the purchase of a roller at this time. It is a matter for the council to decide whether there is such a surplus of city funds as to justify the purchase of a roller, or any other extraordinary investment, and still leave funds sufficient to pay promptly the ordinary expenses of the city. If there is a surplus of revenue the DEMOCRAT would suggest that it be paid out right here to the laboring men who ask for employment.

FINANCIAL REFORM.

The dispatches from Washington tell us that the president has determined to insist that congress shall repeal the tax on state banks of issue, and that a conference of treasury officials considered a measure for that purpose last Saturday.

It is not proposed to flood the country with wild-cat money, but on the other hand a well matured, carefully considered plan will be submitted, and all necessary safeguards thrown about the currency which it is to be permitted state banks to issue.

The measure as outlined will be more in the nature of an extension of the national banking system than a revival of the old wild-cat banks, for it is proposed to only permit the issue of notes furnished by the government and secured by the deposit with the treasury of approved securities.

This measure will be warmly supported in the west and south, where good security is much more plentiful than legal tender money.

It will tend, too, to make these sections more independent of New York by giving them currency upon their own securities.

It is useless, however, to disguise the difficulty that will be met when it comes to the practical work of framing a bill for the purpose indicated.

It will be necessary to adopt the strictest safeguards in order to give confidence to the public in the new issue.

School books at McClellan.

A Bereaved Family.

It will pain the friends and relatives here, says the Lamonte Record, to learn of the death of Frank Senior, brother of J. G. Senior, of Stockley. Mr. Senior was raised in this community, and was one of our best citizens. He died Tuesday, August 22, of consumption at his home in Hume, Bates county, this state. He was a devoted member of the Christian church, and was about 50 years of age. The family and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community.

Charles Senior, his nephew, of Montevideo county, died the Saturday previous.

MAKING ROADS!

THE GREAT ADVANTAGE OF USING THE ROLLER.

Firm, Smooth Roads and Streets May Be Made at a Nominal Cost.

A member of the city council calls the attention of the DEMOCRAT, and, through this paper, of the public, to an article in the Springfield, Ohio, Republican in regard to the use of the heavy roller in making and repairing streets and roads.

The Republican in speaking of an exhibition of the roller at work, says:

"The process, which is becoming a common sight in this city, is an interesting one. In the course of a few hours a half block of the street, about 500 square yards, was put in excellent condition, smooth and compact, ready for two years' wear without a stroke of repair, at a cost of probably less than $5.

When the party arrived on the street a strip of road, full of holes and bumps, rough enough almost to endanger the springs of a heavily loaded vehicle, stretched before them. The strip is now as SMOOTH AS ASPHALT, and as compact as it is possible to make dirt and gravel. Not a particle of new material was put on the street.

The roller, or rather the road-machine, was first used to "pick up" the street; that is, heavy spikes or picks were put in the big wheels, and the road bed was torn up to the depth of several inches, revealing a surprising amount of gravel and cobble-stone under the immediate surface. The road bed torn up, the next work was to thoroughly harrow it; filling the holes, leveling the bumps and giving the street a "crown"—making a rolling surface higher in the middle, to afford proper drainage. The roller was then put on, and in a short time had a beautiful strip of street.

By early fall, for the first time in her history, Springfield will have thoroughfares, other than paved streets, worthy the name. The implement is so worked as to excite general comment, and the beauty of it, that the street-making has been accomplished at a price surprisingly low.

No act of the late B. P. A., the predecessor of the present board, has proved so wise and beneficial in its results as its purchase of a road-roller; for it has been by the use of this roller that the city, with an empty street fund and streets that were holy terrons, has been able to create several miles of park boulevard not excelled in the state.

It should be remembered that no stone nor gravel was put on East street the other day—simply the material already on the street was used, and nine times out of ten it will be found that a picking of the street will reveal enough material to make a good road bed.

The county commissioners seemed especially impressed with that. The mile of South Fountain avenue was repaired in this way; Mr. Todd, of the board of public affairs, says the cost of making that mile of magnificent boulevard was $112. To have repaired it the old way would have cost, at the very lowest estimate, $600, and then the result would not have been one quarter as satisfactory. Fountain avenue was in a horrible condition—indeed almost impassable in many places—before the roller was put on it. Today it is smooth and compact—solidier than the day the work was completed.

Charlie W. Lyon, of this city, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Louise Philippi, at Crystal City for a week past, was the victim of a second stroke of partial paralysis last Thursday, and for a time it was feared the final summons was near at hand, but his many friends will be glad to know that his condition has greatly improved since then.

Mr. Lyon was seated at the dinner table when stricken, and it was several minutes before he was able to utter a word. Only one side of his body was affected, but he had no use of it whatever and his condition was frightful in the extreme.

Medical attention was promptly summoned and since then Mr. Lyon's condition has improved, until he is now in almost as good health as he was when he left Sedalia a week ago yesterday.

A Winter Poem.

For your coal and wood
That's very good
Try Harris, who keeps the grain,
And give him a show,
If he don't make a blow,
For he'll get there just the same.

My anthracite is the very best,
My soft coal's just the same,
My stove-wood it is all O. K.,
As well as my hay and grain.

So don't forget the place
Where goods are up to grade,
And give R. H. Harris a call,
The hustler in the trade.

THE ALLEGED CROOKS.

One of the Men, Arrested at Windsor, Mo., yesterday, and the authorities of that place notified Chief Harrigan at once.

King was implicated with Tony Short in robbing a drug store, and it is supposed that he is none other than Harry Meyers, alias Muldon, who was arrested in this city July 22, with three other men suspected of being safe-blowers. Meyers was given hours to leave town, and his companions were sent to the rock-pile.—Globe-Democrat, 3d.

King was arrested more than two weeks ago, while Short was taken in custody in Sedalia a couple of days later. The DEMOCRAT published the particulars of both arrests at the time they were made.

REDEDICATED A CHURCH.

Impressive Ceremonies at the German Methodist Edifice.

The German Methodist church, at the corner of Sixth and Lamine streets, was rededicated with impressive services yesterday afternoon.

The building—a substantial and commodious one of brick—was erected in 1877, since which time the membership has been largely increased and a vast amount of good work done.

By long use, the walls had grown dingy, the seats needed a new coating of varnish, and, in fact, the whole interior called for a thorough refitting.

This has been handsomely done, at a cost of $500, contributed and paid up in full by the liberality of the congregation.

The interior of the church is now exceedingly attractive. The ceiling and walls have been finely frescoed, and back of the pulpit is a large oil painting, representing the Savior followed by a flock of lambs.

A large audience witnessed the dedication, which was participated in by pastors and people from several other churches.

Rev. Dr. Fuller, of the First Baptist church, made the opening prayer.

Rev. R. R. Marquis, of the Central Presbyterian church, read a passage of Scripture.

Rev. P. A. Eubanks read a psalm.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. A. R. Cronce, pastor of the First M. E. church.

Dr. Fuller made a brief address, and Rev. Albert Jump preceded the closing hymn with prayer.

The abundance of beautiful flowers about the altar and the singing by the choir added greatly to the pleasure and interest of the occasion.

Rev. H. Bruns, the popular and faithful pastor of this church, and his entire congregation, are to be congratulated on the work they have done.

BEYOND THE LAW.

DR. GRAVES ENDS HIS LIFE BY POISON.

TIRED OF PERSECUTION.

He Leaves a Letter Bitterly Arraigning the Prosecution and Asserting His Innocence.

DENVER, Col., Sept 4.—The famous murder case of Dr. T. Thatcher Graves, formerly of Providence R. I., has at last been settled. The doctor was found dead in his cell at the county jail about 9 o'clock yesterday morning where he was awaiting a rehearing on the charge of having poisoned Mrs. Josephine Barnaby, a wealthy widow also of Providence. The poisoning is said to have been done to cover up Dr. Graves' alleged defalcations as manager of Mrs. Barnaby's estate. Although no autopsy has yet been held on his body, it is known that the doctor took his own life, using morphine to effect his end.

In a scatchefin the doctor's cell were found five letters, the first one having been written on Aug. 9, last, showing his suicide had been contemplated since then.

The burden of all these letters was the same—a bitter arraignment of the prosecution, particularly Prosecuting Attorney Stevens, and charging that his conviction was secured on perjured testimony. In one of the letters Dr. Graves says: "Upon my solemn Masonic oath, I, T. Thatcher Graves, did not have anything to do in any way, shape, manner, nor deed with the death of Mrs. Barnaby. I write this, knowing what the future will have in store for me.

"The people will believe, pity and sympathize with me. They will know that even the strongest man can be beaten down by a cyclone of filth, mud and persecution.

"I leave little Ikey Stevens to the people of Colorado. Please take care of him."
